

Devonport

(extract)

I saw two sailors in Devonport city,
Their bones were of shell and their eyes were marine “Never forget”, said the one to the other,
“The deeds and sights we’ve seen.”

Charles Causley

